Weather, Large Crowds Combine For Successful Evergreen Rodeo

Sunny skies, after a week of sporadic rain showers, greeted Drayton Valley Saturday morning and started Evergreen Rodeo weekend off on a promising note.

The weather held through Saturday with a brief evening shower but on Sunday morning leaden skies threatened the balance of the program. Events went ahead on schedule and by early afternoon the sunshine had returned and the rodeo went on to a successful conclusion.

Good crowds attended all the riding and race events throughout the weekend that got underway Saturday morning with a pancake breakfast in the Centennial Civic Centre.

The big parade Saturday morning (an annual feature) was again a great success and was enjoyed by a large crowd that lined the parade route. Two marching bands, colorful floats and instrumental and vocal groups carried on flat bed trucks helped set the

Iowa Ghosts Playing Whips Here Tonight

The famous Iowa Ghosts will be in Drayton Valley tonight (Tuesday, June 15th) to meet the local Whips in an exhibition fastball game at West Valley Park starting at 7:00 p.m.

The Ghosts fastball team began its interesting history during the depression days of 1930 and since that time has played in every corner of the Western Hemisphere.

In the last 14 years of touring, the team has been in 1549 games and won 1395. The team moves on following each game to keep its schedule in the next town.

The Ghosts antics have kept crowds laughing in major cities and small hamlets from Mexico to Northern Canada. Runners criss-cross each other on bases and umpires are blindfolded from behind as the Ghosts unorthodox play and ad-libbing keeps the opposition puzzled and the fans roaring.

F.M.H.S. Mathematics Teacher To Spend Summer in Ethiopia

Eight Alberta teachers will spend their summer vacations as volunteers helping other teachers in developing countries. They were selected earlier this year from a large number of applicants to participate in "Project Overseas", an annual educational assistance program sponsored by the Canadian Teachers' Federation and its affiliates, including The Alberta Teachers' Association.

These teachers, along with 50 others from across Canada, will assist their colleagues in Africa and the Caribbean in upgrading courses, teaching methods, subject matter courses, and in their efforts to strengthen their professional organization.

The Alberta Teachers' Association is paying the expenses of four participants and the Canadian Teachers' Federation with assistance from the Canadian International Development Agency is sponsoring the other four teachers. The participants give up their summer holidays to serve overseas and although expenses are paid no salaries or honoraria are involved.

Mr. Alfred Lepp, a mathematics teacher at Frank Maddock High School, will be going to Ethiopia. His assignment is a course in science methods and concepts for elementary teachers in Addis Ababa. Mr. Lepp taught in Sarawak, Malaysia, for three years under the auspices of the Canadian International Development Agency.

Project Overseas had a very modest beginning in 1962 when two teachers were assigned to Nigeria for the summer. Since then it has expanded considerably with 60 Canadian teachers serving in 11 countries this summer.

Countries receiving assistance this year include Ethiopia, Gambia, Ghana, Sierra Leone, Uganda, and Togo, in Africa; British Honduras, Grenada, Guyana, Jamaica and St. Vincent in the Caribbean.

Teachers Reject Recent Offer by School Trustees

Teachers in the trustee-organized North West Central Alberta School Authorities Association (NWCASAA) this week voted 94% against acceptance of a recent school trustee offer. At the same time, the teachers voted in favor of applying to the Board of Industrial Relations for a supervised strike vote. The NWCASAA includes the school jurisdictions of Barrhead, Westlock, Thibeau, Lac St. Anne, Parkland, Drayton Valley Separate, Jasper and Grande Cache, and represents 852 teachers.

The offer by the School Authorities Association was a counter proposal to a Conciliation Commissioner's Recommendation. The recommendation was previously accepted by 94% of the 820 teachers who voted, but rejected by the School Authorities Association.

Mr. D. J. Corse, Bargaining Agent for the teachers, stressed that most teachers in the region have taught since last September on the previous year's contract. "Teachers favor continuation of talks with the School Authorities Association," he said. "Trustees, however, forced the teachers into a strike vote position when school boards rejected the Conciliation Commissioner's Recommendation."

"The situation could further deteriorate unless the School Boards involved are willing to take a realistic attitude," Mr. Corse continued. "No employer dictates all of the conditions of employment to his employees. The Alberta Labor Act, under which teachers and trustees negotiate, recognizes this fact and make provision for conditions of employment to be negotiated. Many school boards in Alberta, including the Edmonton Public School System, also recognize this."

The recent trustee proposal fell far short of teacher expectations. It offered a lengthening of the teacher school year; an assigned work day equivalent to 8:30 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. but not including teacher-supervised student extra-curricular activities or preparation and marking time. The trustees salary offer was well below the 6% settlement recommended by the Conciliation Recommendation, especially for teachers in the County of Parkland who represent nearly one third of the teachers in the Region (The 6% salary increase has generally been the guideline in Edmonton and Calgary settlements, and in other areas of Alberta.)

A teacher negotiator expressed dismay that the trustee offer had even rejected the principle of consultation over conditions of employment that had been previously agreed upon during Conciliation talks. Another teacher representative stated that, as far as he could see, the latest trustee offer had negated all of the time and effort put into negotiations by both sides since talks began last November, since trustees had rejected almost all of the items in the Conciliation Recommendation.

The teacher Economic Policy Committee had previously agreed that teachers in the NWCASAA should be given the opportunity to approve or reject the trustee offer so that the trustees of the eight school boards "would have no doubt as to the feelings of the teachers."

Report From Parliament Hill

By Allen Sulatycky, M.P.

By late May when Members of Parliament who are active in Commons Committees have been sitting in a dozen or more meetings a week for weeks on end, such meetings can be a dull and tedious affair.

Last week Members of the Standing Committee on National Resources enjoyed an unusually interesting meeting. The subject matter was coal and the witnesses were Jack Delaney and Stan Grocutt of District 18, United Mine Workers of America.

Their brief on the revival and potential of the Western Canadian Coal Industry commanded a special interest from the Committee. A measure of its excellence was the fact that the meeting did not adjourn until long after the usual adjournment time of 10:00 p.m. as Members displayed their interest in the subject by posing various questions to the witnesses.

Each year in studying the spending estimates of the Department of Energy, Mines and Resources. The Standing Committee on National Resources surveys the coal industry. But in at least the last three years no one has presented as comprehensive a picture of the coal boom in Western Canada and all it entails as did the representatives of the United Mine Workers a few days ago.

Their story of the Western coal revival, cautionary advice on resources management and concern for the conditions of the miner and his family were of immense interest to Committee Members.

Many of the questions asked by Members centered on the economics of the industry. But keen interest was also shown in such matters as the revival of the communities in the Crowsnest Pass, Canmore, the development of Grande Cache and the impact of the Luscar Mine on Hinton.

Inclusion of coal in a National Energy Policy, increased use of Western Coal in Europe and Eastern Canada, conservation of coal resources by careful extraction, land reclamation and coal research were all matters fully covered by the witnesses.

Considerable emphasis was given to the life of the miner. In this regard the witnesses said:

"The miner should be able to afford to live in a comfortable home. When he emerges from the deep darkness of the pit it should be to see the sun shining in a clean, attractive community, green grass, trees and parks. It is not beyond the scope of science to removed drabness and pollution from the traditional mining town."

The excellent and interesting presentation by the Mine Workers gave all M.P.'s who participated a very clear picture of a booming industry.

LEGISLATIVE REPORT

By Kevin Peterson and Don Sellar (Of the Calgary Herald)

Nobody enjoys paying property taxes, so it's little wonder that politicians are quick to suggest a variety of manoeuvres to renovate the system and somehow make it easier to bear.

Naturally, the most elaborate changes are recommended by the Opposition party--governments usually tinker with property taxes at a more sedate pace.

In Alberta, the Conservative party is promising to simplify the existing range of municipal-provincial financing by freeing all residential property from the municipal tax levy for the Education Foundation Program.

At the same time, the Tories are proposing to eliminate the province's municipal assistance grants to local governments and thereby cover much of the added education burden.

Conservative urban affairs critic David Russell estimates the province would have to find $64 million to abolish the basic education tax burden on residential property, and he would cover $38 million of this by eliminating the municipal assistance grants.

When the Social Credit government imposed the $38 million ceiling on the oil royalty grants, it incurred the wrath of virtually every municipal politician in the province.

Mr. Russell's advocacy of an end to the municipal grants presumably would provoke a correspondingly-louder howl of protest from local officials, who would be cut off from a revenue source equal to roughly 12 mills across the province.

The problem with the Conservative plan is that it resembles the old shell game. Governments can juggle the tax burden from group to group, but they can't alter the total amount of money which has to be raised.

Mr. Russell contends it would be easy for the wealthy, high-spending provincial administration to raise another $26 million to make life more bearable for residential property owners because that amount represents only 2 per cent of the Alberta budget.

But in the end someone will have to foot the bill, and the Conservatives aren't spelling out the details of this in advance, other than saying that program cuts could be made to achieve the goal.

The basic Tory premise is that property taxes should cover services to property and the province should be responsible for the Foundation Program because education is a provincial responsibility.

The government contends, however, that the past 10 years have seen a substantial shift in finance policy. Alberta's contribution to the Foundation Program has risen to nearly 60 per cent from 50 per cent a decade ago, and homeowner tax discounts this year compensate property owners to the tune of $75.

The province's tax policy has changed, but the Tories obviously want it to change faster. At the same time, the Conservatives express skepticism about the Socreds' habit of junking study after study which recommends major fiscal changes.

And now the government is engaged in the job of setting up its new task force into provincial-municipal fiscal relationships.

Editorial — Comment

Boat Hazards Increasing

Boating accidents are now claiming about 300 lives annually in Canada and the yearly toll is likely to continue to increase as more and more summer fun-seekers take to the water. Unless, of course, many more summer sailors take heed of the dangers and learn to operate boats safely.

Needless tragedies could be greatly reduced if safe boating techniques advocated by the Canadian Safety Council were practiced by more boating enthusiasts. Unfortunately, many of the millions of Canadians who look forward to summer boating, don't have the basic knowledge required to operate increasingly powerful motor boats properly.

In hope of reducing the toll, the Canadian Safety Council has declared the week of July 1 to 7 as Safe Boating Week, and will attempt to focus attention on a growing problem by a major campaign at national and community levels.

Junior Citizen's Awards

Time is rapidly running out for nominations for Junior Citizens in the 1971 program conducted annually by the Alberta electric utility companies.

In the past the program has brought recognition to many young Albertans for feats that might otherwise have gone un-noticed. Many more are probably located throughout the area whose accomplishments are awaiting the actions of adults in bringing them to the attention of the selection committee.

Heroic feats, accomplishments in the face of adversity, or qualities of good citizenship could win an award for a young person. If you know any youngster who you feel qualifies, write to The Western Review today. Don't wait, nominations close July 31st.

Athletes, Math Team Credit to School

Our congratulations to members of the Frank Maddock High School mathematics team whose accomplishments in a national math contest have brought honor to the school and community. The mathematics results (reported elsewhere in this issue) show a high standard of achievement and represents a considerable degree of effort on the part of students and staff members alike.

Another group from F.M.H.S., the track and field team, accomplished a considerable feat by winning their way into the provincial finals. They managed to make a creditable showing despite very inadequate training facilities, compared to those of many other communities, notably the cities that competed. The need for a proper track and possibly other improvements, hopefully will some day be undertaken, and give athletes from the community a better shake in competitions of the future.

High Priced Legislators

Parliament proved to be a smooth-working, efficient system of governing the nation when the Members, with few exceptions, approved legislation raising their own pay by 50 percent, plus other fringe benefits.

The bill, at the time of writing, was in the hands of the Senate, for that august body's ratification. No difficulty is anticipated from this quarter.

The wage hike will be from $12,000 - $18,000 per year. Tax-free expense allowance for MPs will jump from $6,000 - $8,000; senators from $3,000 - $4,000 all retroactive from October 8, 1970. There are other benefits, such as lifetime pensions, not available at the moment.

It proves that there is great love of gravy from the gravy train. — Bassano Times.

THE KITCHEN OF THE FUTURE

When we look back to the rustic kitchens of the turn of the century we homemakers are thankful for our many conveniences today. What can we look forward to in our future kitchen.

In the November, 1970 edition of Forecast, some interesting predictions are made about the "kitchen of tomorrow". Some of the developments are already on the market, while others will no doubt take some time to realize.

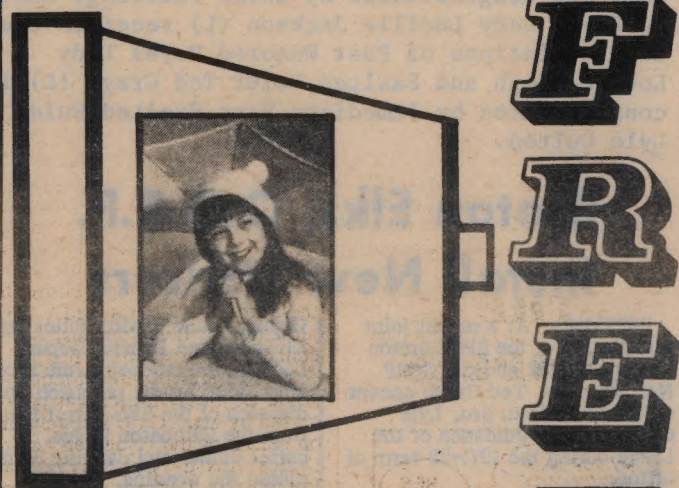

Self-cleaning and continuous cleaning ovens will become common as well. Smooth glass-top ranges with no exposed electric units or gas burners will further simplify cleaning. Microwave ovens will become more popular as the price decreases.

To save counter space, Tappan has introduced a cooking centre which consists of five cooking utensils. They are thermostatically controlled and plug into a fold-away panel.

Trash mashers are the newest kitchen appliance on the market. By exerting tremendous pressure, paper, cans, glass, bottles, plastics and food wastes are compressed into a compact mass. This can be disposed of much more efficiently than the bulky packages now put out for the garbage collectors.

Floors will be self-cleaning. Frigidaire has developed an ingestive type system whereby pressure from walking forces the dirt through tiny valves into a sub-floor. There the dirt is whisked away by a vacuum system.

The kitchen is expected to become decentralized, and the present popularity of barbecues and portable appliances would appear to bear this out. They make it possible to prepare food in many different areas of the home. Small refrigeration units are expected to be located where they are needed. A thermoelectric cooling system which requires no service because it has no moving parts, and therefore nothing to wear out, will be one approach to this.

develop a subject index for the benefit of all in the school. These hard working people include Claudette Duperron, Brenda Harris, Brian Telford, Colleen Stewart, Elaine Steirer, Don Hennessey, Anita Duperron, Ray Kowal, Connie McGinn, Fern Van-Hereweghe, Gary Keufler, Perry Hook, Debbie Palmer, Mary Jane Redford, Kim Gebhardt, Cathy Meyer. Jerry Hook set a record in the 880 yard run with a time of 2:34.9. Bill Demers set a record in the high jump, soaring to 4 feet 7 inches. Some of St. Anthony's contestants missed their events due to late arrival on account of bus problems. They may have finished higher, had this unfortunate happening not developed.

The grade IX class had an enjoyable tour with Mr. Duteau on Wednesday, June 9th. Their trip included the parliament buildings in Edmonton and the retreat and historical points of interest at St. Albert.

Brett Hammerlindl

Places High in Math Contest

Frank Maddock High School student, Brett Hammerlindl, won honors for himself and his school in a recent National Mathematics Contest by placing 26th of 19,123 students across the country. He stood 8th in Alberta and 3rd in the district.

The contest, Ontario Junior Math Competition, is open to all high school students and high school teams across Canada each spring.

Brett's outstanding performance is indicative of the bright possibilities open to him in the future.

More Students Write Exams

An estimated 21,500 Grade 12 students will write departmental examinations June 23 to 30 compared with 20,373 students in June of 1970, says Dr. J.E. Reid, director of operational research for the department of education.

The totals include students from semester as well as 10-month programs.

Exam papers were mailed June 4 to school jurisdiction custodians. The mailing was earlier this year so that schools can check on their supplies and can order more in case of shortages, Dr. Reid says.

Dr. Reid stresses that students who require transcripts of their marks to be forwarded to post-secondary institutions must make the necessary request before June 30.

HART CANTELON

Readers wishing to write to Mr. Cantelon are invited to do so. All letters to be forwarded to Hart Cantelon Counselling Services Ltd., 1600 Cambridge Building, Edmonton. Please include a stamped self-addressed envelope to ensure a reply.

Dear Mr. Cantelon:

We have been married eight years. We have four children six and under. The first three years of our lives, we lived in the city. Then we moved to the farm. When in the city, we always went away at least every other weekend. Now, since 1968, I haven't been off the place but five times. How often I have asked to be taken out, even for an hour or two. He says baby-sitters are too expensive, so we end up bundling up the whole family, and trying to have a change for a short few hours. But I'm never away from the run-of-the-mill duties of children and the home. Yet, he goes out many times with the boys, and as we live some distance from the little town nearby, I'm home alone when he's gone. I love my husband and the children very much, but at times I get so depressed that the thought of committing suicide even passes through my mind and I almost hate myself for having such thoughts.

Dear Mother of Four:

Your husband is making the same sad mistake that all of us, as husbands, have made at some time or other. In the first place, bundling up the kids, is not the kind of outing a wife needs. As men we must remember that the reason our wives accepted our first date in courting was that this outing indicated we were interested in them, as individuals. So, if after marriage, this experience of husband and wife being together never happens, the only conclusion the wife can come to is that the husband is no longer interested. This breeds doubt in the wife's mind and ultimately despair and discouragement. There are times when a man needs to be out with the boys. But the wise husband matches each time with a date with his wife. Let your husband read this reply, and if he doesn't smarten up, then see a marriage counsellor soon. But don't let the pressure build up to a point that you fail to see life's worth living.

Dear Mr. Cantelon:

My problem is we have a son who turned sixteen at Christmas. He doesn't like school, in fact he hates it. He has never liked school since the day he started. When he was about six, he had a mild case of epilepsy and took pills for a few years. The doctor said he would have a hard time learning, because of this illness. He wants to quit school this June. We've tried to talk him into taking at least Grade Ten, but he puts up such a big fuss and says he just wants to be a farmer. We have a half section of land and could afford another half, but wonder if we should give in to this plan of his. Is there another course he might take. He's very good around machinery and catches on to farming methods very fast.

Dear Parent:

My guess is that your son is a better judge of his limitations than you really imagine. With his medical history, being out-of-doors is the best life for him. If he enjoys farming, and you are able to set him up with additional land, then thank your lucky stars. I know of hundreds of farmers who wish that one of their sons would take over, and don't know what to do with a life-time of labor that has built up a wonderful farm only to fall under the auctioneer's hammer when the "old man" has to give up. I do feel that your son should have additional training for the kind of demands modern agriculture will place on him. But why send him back to the regular high school. Why not an agricultural college which will help him specialize in animal and plant husbandry. Then let him take over and you and your husband start to take things a little bit easier. You'll be surprised. That boy will likely do a better job of it than you did. If he does that's what you raised him for.

Psychiatrists tell us that one out of every five Canadians is mentally ill. Check your friends. If four seem all right, you're the one.

Howard Cathrea (R) receives the congratulations of Bob Cowan following his installation as Exalted Ruler of the Drayton Valley Elks Lodge.

Plan Special Grad Service

A special "Graduation Service" for all Grade IX's and XII's will be held at St. Anthony's Church on Sunday, June 20th at 11:00 a.m.

The purpose of the "Service" is to honor the students who will be moving up to new areas in their lives - to High School or to the work-world. All are welcome.

The Hon. Ambrose Holowach, Minister of Culture, Youth and Recreation, presents Provincial Government grants to Mrs. Elizabeth Howery of Spruce Grove, Chairman of the recently formed Yellowhead Regional Library. In the background are Mr. R.A. Bailey, Regional Library Board member, Mr. Les Usher, Deputy Minister of Culture, Youth and Recreation, Mr. Ernest Redmond, Chief Librarian and Mr. Ted Wiltshire, Supervisor of Public Libraries for the Province.

Minister Enthusiastic About Yellowhead Regional Library

Library services in Alberta were recently improved and augmented substantially by the establishment of the Yellowhead Regional Library.

"This is a great step forward in library development in our Province", said the Hon. Ambrose Holowach, Minister of Culture, Youth and Recreation. "We congratulate the councils of the counties of Barhead, Lac Ste. Anne, Leduc, Parkland and Wetaskiwin, for their co-operative efforts in bringing this library system to reality. As in other fields of endeavour, joint action towards a common goal, can and does achieve the best results. I feel that the library now established will bring to the people of the area a much higher standard of library provision, with all the advantages - educational, cultural and recreational - that this implies. The Government of Alberta is pleased to be associated with this development and the grants which are provided by Provincial legislation will continue to assist in the provision of the best possible library service for today's Albertans."

The Minister presented cheques totalling more than $105,000 to Mrs. Elizabeth Howery of Spruce Grove, Chairman of the Yellowhead Regional Library Board. This Government aid, based on the number of residents of the regional library's area, is intended to assist the establishment of the library and its rapid growth and development. The regional library will continue to receive an annual grant at the rate of 75¢ per capita in the future.

The Yellowhead Regional Library area is made up of the Counties of Barhead, Lac Ste. Anne, Leduc, Parkland and Wetaskiwin. It will cover approximately 8,000 square miles, and will serve approximately 62,000 people at local library service points in schools and public libraries throughout the region.

The establishment of this regional library is the culmination of the effort of local government representatives in the area and the Libraries Division of the Cultural Development Branch. The Division is charged with the development of library services in Alberta and encourages co-operative action to establish regional libraries, throughout the rural areas.

It has excellent anti-scuff and anti-wear properties. Although specifically formulated for engines with 50:1 ratios, it can also be used in engines at manufacturers' recommended 20:1, 40:1 or 100:1 ratios. Golf Tourney Scheduled

The House of Lethbridge has announced the expansion of the "Lethbridge Brewery High Handicap Golf Tournament Series" -- a series specifically for adult golfers with established handicaps of 15 or over.

Last year's enthusiastic response to the initial tournament in Edmonton has prompted expansion of the program to include tournaments in Lethbridge, Red Deer, and Calgary, as well as Edmonton.

Tournaments scheduled are: Lethbridge, June 2, Henderson Lake Golf Course; Red Deer, June 14, Red Deer Golf & Country Club; Calgary, June 30, Elk's Lodge Golf Club; and Edmonton, August 23, Glendale Gold & Country Club.

United Church Setting For Spring Ceremony

A pretty wedding took place on May 14th at the United Church in Drayton Valley when Brenda, third daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Elliott of Lodgepole and Jacques Matte of Montreal were married in a double ring ceremony with Rev. Oldring officiating.

The bride was attired in a beautiful old-fashioned gown with a pearl and lace bodice, leg-o-mutton sleeves and a very full skirt with a front of lace and pearl tiers set off with bustles. She carried a bouquet of red velvet roses with trailing rosebuds and wore a ringlet hair arrangement and a velvet necklet (chocker).

The bridesmaids were all sisters of the bride with Leona Pitruniak as Matron of Honor and Lois and Donna as bridesmaids. They wore mauve gowns with leg-o-lamb sleeves and carried pink roses with matching hair florets. Their hair was all done by Lois Elliott.

The three flower girls were one sister, Carla and two nieces Lorrie Pitruniak and Anita Elliott dressed in long pink gowns and carrying baskets of mauve and pink flowers.

The groomsmen were Walter Pitruniak and bestmen were Wendell Elliott a cousin and brother Dwain. The usher was brother Daryl Elliott and Myron Schmutz of Edmonton.

The mother of the bride wore a coral suit dress with matching corsage and for the evening reception a blue pant suit with lace sleeves. The bride's grandparents Mr. and Mrs. Robert Hyatt of Dewberry were able to attend.

Mr. Jack Millions of Edmonton was Master of Ceremonies at the reception attended by many relatives and friends.

The bride chose a going away outfit of mauve satin faced pantsuit with white accessories. The young couple will reside in Edmonton.

Conditions Indicate Good Duck Crop

With a warm dry spring providing ideal conditions, nesting has proceeded uninterrupted by cold or snow. That danger is now past and another good duck year is in sight. How good will depend primarily on rainfall, particularly in Saskatchewan and Manitoba. It could be outstanding.

First broods are on the water and the early hatch promises to be better than last year. Brood counts to be made in late June will tell us if this is true. However, the number of paired birds still present in late May, and just beginning to nest, predicts that a significant segment of the mallard and pintail hatch will occur in July.

Water conditions vary from excellent in central Alberta to good through western Saskatchewan. While good water conditions exist generally through central Saskatchewan, there are local areas which can only be classed as fair. This condition is general in southeastern Saskatchewan and southern Manitoba.

LIBRARY NEWS

The Library Board would like it known that they very much appreciate receiving the many applications for the position of Library Assistant. After careful consideration two grade ten students have been selected for personal interviews and a final decision will be reached shortly.

It is twenty years since Norah Lofts wrote "Scent of Cloves", and the book still holds interest for a new generation of readers. Julia Ashley, an orphan, becomes one of a band of young women who are shipped out to the Dutch East Indies as a wife for a planter's son. The son had been the victim of a horrible accident in his infancy but we won't spoil the story for you with further details.

For the Science Fiction fans there are new books by Del Rey, Wright, Heinlein and Harrison. New mystery books include "The Ghosts" by Antonia Barber; "A Man Called Harry Brent" by Francis Durbridge; "The Dover Chest" by Amber Dean and "The Disappearance" by Collin Wilcox. There is a new James Forman and a new Frank Bonham for juveniles and new books for the small children including two "Charlie Brown" books.

It will be greatly appreciated if all borrowers with overdue books will make a special effort to return them before the end of the month. Books may be returned any time by dropping them in the book chute just inside the east door.

The Drayton Valley Library had its fourteenth birthday last week. It was begun as a Community Library under the Women's Institute and the first book was loaned to Mayor Robert Clarkson at the official opening June 4th, 1957.

The library reached Municipal Status in January 1965.

Asst. Dist. Agriculturist

In Drayton Valley each Wednesday at Sekura Auction Mart from 1:00 p.m. to 4:00 p.m.

Noticing an editorial in last week's reporter on pollution with reference to Agricultural chemicals, I decided to comment. Concern grows about the effects on plants, animals and man himself from the use of fungicides, herbicides and other similar chemicals in agriculture. That concern grown in spite of the knowledge that such chemicals have contributed in an important way to feeding mankind and lowering food costs to consumers. During the last year, some chemicals used in part of agriculture such as D.D.T. and 2,4-D have come under vigorous attack. The mercurial seed treatments have also been subject to extensive unfavourable publicity.

Despite the publicity given to dangers, no human death has resulted from any pesticide used according to directions. However, alarmists feel the danger lies not in their application, but in the buildup in the food we eat. Are excesses of pesticide in foods likely?

Vast amounts of research have been carried out on the behaviour, chemistry, metabolism and disappearance of pesticides.

The Saskatoon Research Station is one of the many locations where the behaviour of pesticides has been studied. Advances in pesticide residue analysis by the C. D. A. (which is responsible for registering all pesticides used in the country). Only added fuel to the fire of those who accuse pesticides of causing untold harm to the environment. For example it is now possible to detect organochlorine pesticides in concentration as low as a few parts per trillion. This is significant to a ratio of 1 inch, in 15,780,000 miles.

Development of sensitive and reliable methods for the determination of pesticide residues is very important in any studies involving pesticides. The laboratory at Saskatoon has developed methods whereby a few parts per billion of organochlorine pesticides in plants, soils and other biological material can be detected and accurately determined. The high sensitivity of these methods, developed here and elsewhere has contributed to consumers safety. The older methods of analysis, for example were not sensitive below 1 part per million of DDT, DDE, and DDD residue in milk. But modern chromatographic methods can detect much lower concentration of the residues. Consequently the "actionable level" for DDT residues is now only 0.05 p.p.m. in milk. Thus the level of DDT in milk that was regarded as safe for human consumption a few years ago could now be considered unsafe and use-patterns have been modified to keep residue levels within acceptable limits.

Experiments carried out in the field have shown that wheat grain grown in soils treated with high levels of persistent organochlorine pesticides like aldrin, dieldrin, and endrin do not contain any residues detectable by these highly sensitive methods. In other studies cereal grains grown from seeds treated with organochlorine pesticides were also found to have no detectable residue. Yet another study showed that cereal crops grown from seeds treated with organomercury seed dressings did not contain any more mercury than those grown from untreated seeds. Thus game birds could not become contaminated with mercury from feeding on harvested grains.

The factors affecting the absorption of pesticide residues by crops grown in contaminated soil are also studied. These studies have shown that root crops absorb more residues than oil seed crops, which, in turn absorb more residues than forage crops. Cereal crops have the least tendency to absorb pesticide residues from contaminated soil. Thus it may not be safe to grow carrots in a particular contaminated soil but it may be quite safe to grow cereal or other types of crops. This kind of study provides information for advising farmers as to what type of crop they could grow on soil contaminated with persistent organochlorine pesticides so that the crops would not contain harmful residues.

Degradation of pesticides by soils and plants is an important area for research. In many cases the pesticide is degraded to less toxic products but in some cases it can be converted into more toxic products. Heptachlor and Aldrin for example, are converted by plants, soils, and animals into more toxic heptachlor epoxide and Dieldrin, respectively. Studies carried out in Saskatoon have shown that Dieldrin is not degraded by plants and soils whereas Lindane is broken down into less toxic products. This type of study gives us a better understanding of the persistence of the compound in the environment. If it is not biodegradable and the compound has low volatility it would persist in the environment for a long time as in the case with Dieldrin. Conversely chemicals that are easily biodegradable would have a short life in the environment and would be eliminated from the animal body quickly, causing little or no harm. Most of the newer organophosphorous and carbamate have this highly desirable characteristic.

Much effort has been given to the monitoring of the environment for pesticide residues. Hundreds of fish, soil and crop samples from various parts of Saskatchewan have been analyzed in this laboratory. Although many of these samples contained less than 1/10 of a part per million residues, there has never been a case where the food contained residues in excess of the permissible amount. The theoretical daily intake of pesticide residues is calculated on the assumption that every food we eat is contaminated at the highest permissible level.

The acceptable daily intake is about 1/100th of the amount that is considered to be safe from experiments with sensitive animals. In addition to the 100-fold safety factor in the setting up of acceptable daily intake and tolerance levels the consumer has two other safety factors of similar importance.

If misused there are at least five possible ways pesticides may contribute to pollution. They may be applied where there are no pests, eg. ditches free of mosquitoes may be sprayed in mosquito control program. Secondly, spraying may be carried out where there is no economic reason to do so. When the level of damage to a crop is below an economically significant level it is wasteful to spray. The third way is over-use "If one pound is called for, two will make sure". Such an approach is not only wasteful, it is bad for the environment. Fourthly, some may be used for purposes, or in ways, that do damage to the predators of insect pests than they do to the pests themselves. The fifth and ultimate misuse of pesticides is the casual dumping of any excess or residue when the spraying is completed.

One can therefore see, it is not possible to legislate against carelessness or lack of knowledge.

With rising standards of living, the demand for what is considered to be a good environment will intensify. However, there is considerable argument relating to such questions as: The nature of good environment, ways to achieving it, and the cost of maintaining it, therefore agriculture will need to have suitable answers when it is challenged.

We have not been answering back often enough when useful agricultural chemicals are attacked. Unless, we do, they will be lost.

Interest in pollution may lead to worry, excited talk and demonstrations. Hopefully, public concern will be replaced by a real understanding of how difficult and complex the problem is.

The development of workable solutions will require, public awareness of the needs for research, legislation, and enforcement for pollution abatement and control.

Snell Family to Make New Home in Kelowna

The Drayton Valley Church of God and the community are sorry to see the Snells leave after nearly nine years of service here.

Following a vacation in Anderson, Indiana at Camp Meeting, Mr. and Mrs. Snell, David and Janice will be taking up their new residence in Kelowna. Their eldest son, Les is employed in Edmonton and Paul will be returning to Alberta Bible Institute at Camrose this fall.

A Community Potluck Supper and fellowship for the Snell family will be held Monday, June 28th at 6:00 p.m. at the Easyford Campsite. If it rains supper will be in the hall.

C.W.L. Welcomes Eight New Members Recently

The June C.W.L. dinner meeting was held in the Cardium Room on Monday, June 7th with Father Lynch and forty-nine members and guests present.

They were treated to a delicious chicken supper, following which eight ladies were welcomed as members bringing the membership to fifty. They were Mrs. V. Koehnsted, Mrs. Dianne Rockwell, Mrs. Theresa Mann, Mrs. Helen Brisbois, Mrs. Mary Penning, Mrs. Laura Barker, Mrs. Donna Franklin, and Mrs. Rita Gauthier.

Guest speaker was Mrs. G. McDonald of Stony Plain, a Home Economist who gave an interesting and very enlightening talk on buying meat and produce.

President, Mrs. Elaine Horne thanked all the ladies for contributing to the bake sale in May. It was a great success.

Eleven ladies under the capable supervision and assistance of Mr. John Stang met early in May and cleaned the church.

On the occasion of the 12th anniversary of Fr. Lynch's Ordination the C.W.L. presented him with a beautifully decorated cake made by Mrs. L. Hook and Mrs. G. Hasencleaver. A cheque to go towards a summer holiday was also presented.

The C.W.L. sponsored Fr. Lynch at 50 cents a mile in the Miles for Million Walk. He made it all the way.

May 30th was a happy occasion for twenty-four girls and boys celebrating their First Communion. Fr. Lynch held a special Mass for them and their families and the C.W.L. presented each with a First Communion card.

Annual Awards Night was held on Tuesday, June 8th at St. Anthony's School. Despite the wet weather the gym was filled to capacity. The teachers were introduced by Mr. McDonald and each, along with Mrs. Helm and Mr. and Mrs. Kashmar, presented with a corsage by Mrs. Horne in appreciation of a job well performed.

Mrs. Horne spoke, welcoming parents and friends and thanked the staff and members of the School Board for the effort spent in preparing the children throughout the year for this event and special effort needed to present it.

The C.W.L. presented thirty-four awards, seventeen to students in each grade for the most Christian-like behavior and seventeen for outstanding Scholastic Achievement.

Twelve ladies volunteered to assist at the Field Day which was postponed from June 10th to June 15th due to weather conditions.

Two C.W.L. ladies volunteered to assist serving at the Mother and Daughter Brownie and Guide Banquet.

A trial baby-sitting service is planned in the church hall in September with Mrs. D. Rockwell and Mrs. D. Franklin volunteering to organize.

C.W.L. Mass is at 7:00 p.m. each Wednesday following the meeting.

Ladies were informed that old newspapers and magazines were being picked up and reprocessed to be used again.

ALDER FLATS NEWS

A most welcome rain fell in this area over the weekend. It made it miserable for all the track meets, ball tournaments and golf tournaments that were scheduled for the weekend, but I don't think anybody minded too much as this rain was sure needed.

The weather for the Winfield, Buck Lake, Alder Flats Track Meet last Monday was cool and windy but despite it all the students did exceptionally well as they brought the Shield back to Alder Flats this year. Buck Lake placed second and Winfield 3rd. Individual trophies won by Alder Flats, students were: B girls, Linda Maciborsky; B boys, Wade Patten; E boys, Larry Scrybalo. Great going - congratulations. Alder Flats grade 9 and 10 boys won the ball game against Winfield 20 - 18. What a thriller. The 9-10 girls lost their game against Winfield by 3 runs. Brian Hare is wearing a cast on his wrist after dislocating it at the Track Meet.

Winfield placed 2nd in the "C" category with 32 points. Hughenden was 1st in this category with 55, at the Camrose Track and Field. Below are the individual results of the Winfield students - Senior girls high jump, Y. Carter 3rd; Discus, D. Goodall, 3rd; Junior Boys - 440 yards, D. Kluzny, 1st; Javelin, Dwayne Tugwell 1st; Intermediate boys - 880 yards,

M. Clarkson, 2nd; 440 yards, Ross Larson, 3rd; Discus, Dexter Johnson 4th; Pole Volt, Dexter Johnson, 3rd; and Senior Boys - 880, R. Johnstone 2nd. Winfield placed 4th in the 440 relay.

Those placing 1st and 2nd were eligible to compete in the Provincial Track and Field in Edmonton Friday and Saturday. Dwayne placed 6th out of 22 in Edmonton.

At the Warburg Track and Field last Friday Alder Flats placed 5th with 80 points. Warburg took 1st place. Wade Patten received an individual medal for placing first in his group. Congratulations Wade. Darlene Seely bused the students to Warburg and Mr. Pearson and Mr. Lee were there supervising for the day. Gladys Maciborsky, Bernice and Denice Johnson were also there. Luckily we could watch mostly everything sitting in the truck as it drizzled and showered all day long.

The ball tournament got rained out at Breton on Saturday after playing a few games. Alder Flats won one game.

The Alder Flats ladies won the ball game against Buck Lake Monday evening on home ground.

Johnny Speakman of High Level was home at the Art Speakmans on Thursday and Friday. Mrs. Art Speakman's brother Bill Todovich and his wife Helen from Vegreville were out for the Old Timers Reunion at Buck Lake on Sunday. Art and Mary joined them there and enjoyed meeting a lot of old friends and acquaintances they hadn't seen for many years, including Alan Damants and Summers, former residents of Alder Flats.

A wedding dance was held for the former Linda Seely and her husband Louis at the Community Hall on Saturday night. It wasn't too nice of an evening weather-wise as it poured rain all evening.

Mrs. Shirley Shanks and her helpers, Mrs. Mickey Parker, Mrs. Ester Hammond and Mrs. Bernice Johnson would sincerely like to thank everyone for their donations to the Canadian Cancer Society. $118.50 was collected from this area. Notice - if anyone wishes to donate or give for a memorial to the cancer fund anytime during the year, Mrs. Shanks has the authorization and would be happy to take your donations.

There were 14 members present at the Home and School meeting Wednesday evening, June 9th. The Home and School will continue to give Ross Memorial Awards to the best academic student and best all around student in each class up to and including grade eight, grades nine and ten receive a cash award for top academic student. Mrs. Hammond was elected to purchase the cups. The Home and School made a motion to donate $25.00 towards the expenses for the swimming instructor if he comes to Buck Lake this year, if you are interested in having your child or yourself take swimming lessons for more information on this you could phone Mrs. Gerry Fraser or Mrs. Fullerton. The Home and School made their annual contribution of fifty dollars to the Alder Flats library fund.

Volunteers for the nominating committee are Joyce Hayduk, Eileen Dunn and Mickey Parker.

A profit of approximately $37. or so was made on the Achievement Banquet after expenses were taken off. It was decided to leave the school picnic up to the teachers and the Legion. Mr. Farrell's room received the plaque. Hostesses for the evening were Marie Melin, Mickey Parker and Bernice Johnson.

Paul Simon returned back home on Tuesday after spending two weeks in Germany with his parents, he was met at the airport by his wife and children.

The Evie Millers and the Lawrence Hoflins took in the Jay Walkers Jamboree at Camrose on Saturday.

On Friday, June 4th, Mr. and Mrs. Gene Seely celebrated their 42nd wedding anniversary and Al and Bev Clemmer their 12th at the Seely home. Larry and Luella have adopted a baby girl, Arlene Marie. Congratulations to all.

Gene and Merle Seely are on a trip to Gem where they will visit Genes brother Dan then on to Camrose and Golden B. C. and then back home.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Janke and boys were to Brightview on Sunday to visit Carl's parents. Carl's father is in the hospital.

Our sincere wishes for a speedy recovery for Wendy Mergle (nee Sunberg) who was seriously injured in a car accident on the weekend.

Attention -- would you believe someone has already tampered with the coin holder on the coin car wash at the Esso station, but were unsuccessful in getting into the cash. A substantial reward is offered by the owners for any information leading to the arrest of the person or persons. It cost a lot to put this service out here for the people, so let's see that it not misused and help keep our hamlet free of vandalism.

June 19th, Sports Day at Alder Flats, kiddies parade, horse races, gymnastics events, ladies ball tournament and many other fun filled events, climaxed with a barbeque supper, dance and the draw on the $104.00 raffle. So come everyone to the friendliest community with good old western hospitality, for a day of fun and enjoyment, for the whole family.

The Alder Flats Ladies won their ball game against Winfield Thursday evening at the Flats.

The only real improvement in waste disposal in the past 50 years was putting a motor instead of a horse in front of the garbage truck.

The "exciting sound" of the Golden-Heir Singers has been heard throughout Canada and the United States, in church services, youth rallies, camps, gospel concerts and campus rallies.

On Friday, June 25th at 8:00 p.m. at the Pentecostal Tabernacle in Drayton Valley you can have the opportunity to hear the group from Chilliwack, B. C. Their program consists of inspiring new songs, some of today's most popular gospel songs, as well as the old favorites. Though they number only three, they present an impressionable dedicated sound you will not forget. These young people, Myrna Ziprick, Carole and Larry Beisel, have more than just the vibrance of youth, and the ability to present beautiful music. They have a burning message to proclaim.... they "tell it like it is".... Gospel.

IN MEMORIAM

MOROZ - In loving memory of our husband, father and grandfather, John Moroz, who passed away June 13, 1970.

One long and lonely year has passed
Since that great sorrow fell,
The shock that we received that day,
No one can ever tell.
You gave no one a last farewell,
You said Good-bye to none,
Gone dear father, gone forever,
How we miss your smiling face.
But you left us to remember,
None on earth can take your place.
But death has left a loneliness,
The world can never fill.
In our hearts your memory lingers
Always tender, fond and true,
There's not a day dear, father,
We do not think of you.
Sadly missed and always remembered by wife Katherine, children and grandchildren.

LOUGHEED - In loving memory of a dear husband and father, Ron, who passed away June 19, 1970.

One long and lonely year has passed
Since the great sorrow fell,
The shock we received that day,
No one can ever tell.
It's a lonely life without you
And sad has been the way.
For life at home is not the same
Since you were called away;
It was a sudden ending,
Too sudden to forget
For ones who loved you dearly
Are the ones who will not forget.
You gave no one a last farewell
You said goodbye to none,
A dear heart had ceased to beat
And suddenly you were gone.
Always remembered and sadly missed by your loving wife Joyce and children.

Pop's Tops on Father's Day

Say so with colorful sport shirts that tell it like it is. Outspoken fashion—crisp and to the point, with 4" collars, easy-wear short sleeves and squared or tailed bottoms. Talkative waven stripes or plains in cool, blended cotton and polyester say "yes" to your washer and dryer . . . "no" to your iron. When you have something really important to say, like "Happy Father's Day", make it memorable with a sport shirt for the tops in Pops.
